

FAC 602. Office Hours

As an institution that takes pride in excellent teaching and individual attention to students, McPherson College expects faculty to be readily available to students. Faculty should schedule and observe 2-3 office hours per week. They should include these scheduled office hours on their syllabi and make themselves available to students by appointment outside regular office hours. Faculty are encouraged to spend as much of their work week on campus as circumstances allow.