

ADM 200 – Confidentiality

Since the college deals with very personal and confidential information, college employees hold a position of trust. All records, reports, memoranda, correspondence, and all other confidential information must be kept in strict confidence.

Discussion of your work should be limited to co-workers directly involved in handling a particular item of business.