

FAC 422. Tenure-Track Appointments

A tenure-track appointment is an appointment for a limited duration during which review will be conducted for a tenured appointment. The normal duration of a tenure-track appointment is a maximum of seven years. If a “satisfactory progress toward tenure” letter of employment is issued during the fifth year, the faculty tenure review process will begin in the sixth year of employment (see FAC 460).